

Hospital Medicine Quality and Administrative Fellowship

For emerging leaders in Hospital Medicine

OVERVIEW

Interested in mastering the art of QI and learning about the inner workings of hospital administration and operations all while obtaining a Master's degree? Look no further than the Hospital Medicine Quality and Administrative Fellowship at UAB. You will maintain clinical and procedural expertise while working on a busy inpatient Internal Medicine service. With non-clinical time you will complete didactic and Master's requirements, design and participate in service and institutional QI projects, serve on a variety of hospital committees, and work within the executive offices. Mentoring by leadership and quality faculty will ensure your success during the fellowship and in your career goals as an emerging leader and innovator going forward.
